Looking tanned and terrific, Confidential caught up with comedian – and for the summer, Port Willunga local – Merrick Watts.

The funnyman was out for lunch with friends at Penny's Hill Winery, and he couldn't stop raving about the top spot.

"This is one of my favourite places, not just in Australia but in the world," Merrick gushes.

"We've got great beaches, a bit of fishing and wineries for a drop of red – perfect," he laughs. He'd spent New Year's Eve with radio colleague Tim Ross, their partners and friends, and the pair are pretty pleased with their local popularity.

Meanwhile, TV's on the agenda for the comic this year, while having a family is a long-term goal. "I have to become an adult first, my wife's waiting for me to grow up," he says.
